Salisbury State

WEEKLY NEWSLETTER

Buckley-Pell Amendment

The purpose of the Act known as the BUCKLEY-PELL Amendment is to assure that currently enrolled college students have access to certain education records, and to protect the student's right to privacy by limiting the transfer of records without his consent.

The education records subject to review and challenge by the student are those records, files and documents directly related to him which are maintained at the college by the Registrar, the Admissions Office, the Office of Career Development and the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs.

There are specific exceptions to the right of access and the college will honor those exceptions. The private notes and materials maintained by instructors, counselors, doctors and administrators, as memory aids, shall not be available to students since they are not accessible to third parties.

Records maintained in the Security Office at the college, since they are used solely for law enforcement purposes, are not available for student review and are available only to other law enforcement officials within the jurisdiction of the State of Maryland.

College students will not be able to directly inspect medical or psychological or similar records which are used solely in connection with treatment and are available only to recognized professionals or para-professionals in connection with such treatment. Students will, however, be able to have a doctor or other professional of their choice inspect their records.

Another exception to the right to see and challenge educational records is that students shall not be permitted to see the financial records of their parents; neither shall they have the right to see confidential letters and statements of recommendation which were placed in the educational record prior to January 1, 1975, provided they are not used for purposes other than for which they were intended. Students may choose to waive their rights of access to confidential recommendations regarding admissions, job placement, and the receipt of scholarships or awards.

The College will assume the right, under the provisions of the Statute, to provide directory information at its discretion. Directory information is defined as the student's name, address, telephone listing, date and place of birth, major field of study, participation in recognized activities and sports, height and weight of members of athletic teams, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, and the most recent, previously attended educational agency or institution.

Students are hereby advised that should they prefer that any of the information which would normally be considered directory information, not be published or released, they will notify the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs, prior to September 15, 1975, and their requests will be honored.

Theatre News

Theatre Meeting Set

All persons in the College community interested in working in any aspect of theatre should come to the Holloway stage on Tuesday, September 9, between 7:30 and 10:00.

Faculty, staff and students of the Salisbury State Theatre and members of the Student Association will be on hand to welcome newcomers and to discuss all opportunities available onstage, backstage, or out front. Proceedings will be informal, and refreshments will be served — so come and get acquainted!

Once Upon A Mattress

All members of the College community are invited to audition for roles in Once Upon a Mattress, the popular musical comedy which the Salisbury State Theatre will perform in November.

Once Upon a Mattress, a favorite with children and adults alike since it gave Carol Burnett her first starring role as the awkward princess in 1959 will be produced in collaboration with the Department of Music.

Auditions will be held in Holloway Auditorium, September 14 through 19, between the hours of 7:30 and 10:00. No experience is necessary. Not all roles require singing (indeed, our lead role is entirely mute!); however, those persons wishing to audition for singing roles or chorus are requested to prepare a song, and songs from the show are preferable. Piano accompaniment will be provided.

Scripts for Once Upon a Mattress are available at the reserve desk in Blackwell Library, and several of the songs from the production may be obtained in the Theatre Office in the basement under Holloway stage.

On Campus

New Doctors

The Health Center has two new doctors helping Dr. Himes this year — Dr. Thomas Snell and Dr. Lawrence Katzen. These men will be scheduled in one day a week. The doctors are beginning to work from appointments, and any student wishing to see the doctor on duty should stop in the Health Center to be assigned a time. The nurses are there to help you 24 hours a day.

Tine Test

Free tine tests are available in the Health Center at this time for the Faculty and Staff. This year everyone is required to be screened for tuberculosis. If you are unable to take tine tests, the nurses will be happy to schedule an x-ray for you.

NEEDED

Blood Donors

Must be 18 years old, weigh at least 110 lbs., and not on medication. Will pay $20. For more information or to sign up see Mrs. Parks in Room 151, Holloway Hall.

AAUW Award

The scholarship awarded annually by the Salisbury Branch of the AAUW to a junior or senior woman has been awarded for the current academic year to Susan Seltzer of Silver Spring, Maryland. Miss Seltzer, who is a senior, has a double major in Psychology and Elementary Education. Her central interest is in working with handicapped children.

The award was made on the basis of her excellent academic record, her professional plans and evidences of a commitment to her plans through her volunteer service to youth beginning in Junior High School. Her most recent work has been her service as a tutor in the Salisbury State College tutoring service to elementary and Junior High students in the County, and her volunteer work with the mentally retarded at Holly Center.

Theatre News

All members of the College community are invited to audition for roles in the musical which the Salisbury State Theatre will perform in collaboration with the Department of Music in November.

Once Upon a Mattress, a favorite with children and adults alike since 1959, was announced as the production in last week's Newsletter. Since that time, however, the producers in New York have informed Dr. Starner that it is probable that the Theatre will be permitted to produce Godspell. Students and staff of both departments agree that if Godspell is in fact made available it will become the November production.

Auditions will be held in Holloway Auditorium, September 14 through 19, between the hours of 7:30 and 10:00. No experience is necessary. Those persons wishing to audition for singing roles or chorus are requested to prepare a song, and songs from either show are preferred. Piano accompaniment will be provided.

Scripts for Once Upon a Mattress are available at the reserve desk in Blackwell Library, and several of the songs from both productions may be obtained in the Theatre Office in the basement under Holloway Stage.

WEEKLY NEWSLETTER

Salisbury State College

VOL. VIII — No. 3

Theatre News

SALISBURY, MARYLAND, SEPTEMBER 12, 1975—At 2:00 P.M., on Sunday, September 21, a bizarre caravan of elves, exiled dukes, lovers, some Magnificoes from Venice, and the troubled ghost of an assassinated king will arrive in Salisbury.

They are, in fact, The New Shakespeare Company of San Francisco, and the play they will perform is William Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice.

The world-famous production will be staged on the Salisbury State College campus lawn near Holloway Hall. See this outstanding production under sponsorship of the College Center Program Board.

The Company is directed by Margrit Roma, whose artistry has developed from thirty-five years of international theatrical experience: Zurich, Berlin, Paris, Hollywood. Her method relies on the actor and the script, rather than on lavish external settings.

From Boston, Hollywood, London, etc., the actors' histories are varied. What they share is the close life style of their profession, and the opportunity this gives them to explore the meanings of the situations they portray. Other productions currently in the troupe's repertoire are As You Like It, The Merchant of Venice and Hamlet. They will soon be adding a production of The Tempest.

For those who may have shied away from Shakespeare in the past, this might be the way to discover the wonders of the man whose theatrical genius outlives and outshines all others in popular appeal.

Sept. 19 - PLAY IT AGAIN, SAM

Rated PG

After his wife leaves him for "insufficient laughter," neurotic film critic Allen turns to married friends for help in establishing a meaningful relationship with the opposite sex. He conjures up shades of his idol, Humphrey Bogart, who gives him bits of hard-boiled advice on how to handle dames. He dates a procession of swinging girls, but they all reject him—even a self-avowed nymphomaniac. Remorseful, he turns to his hero Bogart who gives him the right solution.

Entertainment

Nationally-known comic and contemporary entertainer Robert Klein will perform at Salisbury State's Holloway Hall, Tuesday, September 30, at 8 P.M., it has been announced.

Students will be admitted free with I.D.'s.

Klein's career in the entertainment field began when he was detoured into Yale Drama School following graduation from Alfred University with a B.A. degree in Political Science and History.

After bouncing about in summer stock in the early 60's and cafes and night clubs, Klein successfully auditioned for the Chicago Improvisational Company, "Second City," followed by Mike Nichols' "Apple Tree," and landing with "The Improv" in New York City for three years.

Since 1967, Klein has appeared on the most prestigious TV shows, such as Carson, Cavett, Griffin, etc. He has starred in four movies: "The Landlord," "The Pursuit of Happiness," "The Owl and the Pussycat" and "Rivals." In 1970 he starred in "Comedy Tonight," the summer replacement for Glen Campbell's TV show.

At a certain point, Klein made an appraisal of his career and decided that the direction was toward the young people. For Klein is a comic based in reality uncompromising about what he sees around him, idealistic in his hopes for the world and this puts him in the same cultural context as the young public who identifies with contemporary music. His Child of the Fifties on Brut Records, proved to be the medium that brought Klein a Grammy Award Nomination as the best comedy album of the year.

Probably no single event is more indicative of Klein's success than his sold-out Carnegie Hall concert, "The First Annual Robert Klein Reunion." For nearly two hours, he devastated his audience with his high-energy comedy and comment. As a grande finale, he performed two songs with a back-up rock group. The audience, after a stunning standing ovation, went home wiping the tears of laughter from their eyes. The critics raved. And Robert Klein affirmed his place as a major personality in contemporary entertainment.

Guest Speaker at SSC

Subject:
"General Theory of Evolution"

A one-day course on the general theory of Evolution will be held on campus Saturday, October 4.

John D. Garcia, author, educator and scientist, will be the speaker and instructor in Room 149, Devilbiss Hall from 9 to 4 P.M.

Admission is free to students. Charge to faculty will be $5.00. Registration forms are available in the Office of Continuing Education.

Included in Mr. Garcia's discussion will be the evolution of the universe in terms of inter-related natural phenomena, leading from chaotic energy to matter, to life and finally to mind and all of its manifestations.

Mr. Garcia was born in San Francisco, California in 1935. His studies at the Universities of California, Chicago and Johns Hopkins covered the general areas of biology, chemistry, psychology, physics and mathematics, and led to several degrees—the last, an advanced degree in mathematical statistics from the University of California at Berkeley. His work experience includes farming, medical research, weapons development, arms control, foreign aid development, transportation engineering and education research. In addition to his work with United States industry and government, he has worked in other countries as a scientist, manager and teacher.

In 1968 Mr. Garcia founded a corporation to apply advanced methods of science and technology to socioeconomic and biomedical problems. He severed all ties with his highly successful firm in 1970 to concentrate on writing and other educational pursuits.

Mr. Garcia's first book, The Moral Society, was published in 1971. It became a prime selection in the Psychology Today Book Club and was widely acclaimed as an extraordinary work. His is presently at work on another book, The Step Beyond Man, which is scheduled to be published in 1975.

JEREMIAH JOHNSON - October 3
Rated PG

Set in the mid-1800's and filmed with meticulous authenticity, "Jeremiah Johnson" is the saga of one man's struggle for inner peace. It's an unusual film, rich in fascinating detail—a Western epic and lyrical tradition of American literature of the last century.

Starring Robert Redford, Will Greer, Stephan Gierash and Delle Bolton, it was filmed entirely on location in Utah.

Due to Homecoming, the Friday Flick for Oct. 24 will be shown on Saturday, Oct. 25 — 7 & 10 P.M. The film will be "O, Lucky Man" and will be shown in Devilbiss Hall, Room 149.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Salisbury State College announced today that it is investigating the possibility of starting a Master's Degree in Business Administration Program at the college in the 1976-1977 college year.

Final decision on the start of such a program rests, first, on area demand and approval of the Board of Directors of the Maryland State Colleges according to the College Department of Business Administration.

The college urges that all individuals interested in such a program, as well as business concerns, should contact the college and indicate their interest. The decision will be made as soon as the demand for an advanced degree can be determined. Contacts should be made to Dr. Fred Durr, Chairman of the Department of Business Administration.

Salisbury State College's undergraduate Business Administration program is in its fifth year and it is the fastest growing major on the campus.

Thirty-six different courses are currently being offered as part of this major, and new programs are being planned for next semester.

The faculty include: Professors Fred Durr and John Lewis; Associate Professors Reed Muller and Melvin Tidwell; Assistant Professors Mark Buckley, Regina Haffner and Tai Young Lee; Instructors Walker Pollard, Robert Sperry and Douglas Timmons; and Lecturer Robert Hogg.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE

The Physical Science Department conducted a seminar for secondary school Math and Science teachers entitled "Elliptical Orbit Determinations," last Saturday at Devilbiss Hall.

It was conducted by Dr. Jack Kennedy and consisted of discussion and laboratory experiences.

Dr. Kennedy discussed some of the properties of ellipses and a method by which elliptical orbits for astronomical bodies can be determined using only simple algebra and a minimum of experimental information. This method should be useful in giving students some understanding of how it is possible to

"Frolicsome as kittens, and more fun than a barrel of well-schooled monkeys," said John Simon of the New York Magazine after witnessing the Godspell experience. This rollicking rock musical that ran over three years in New York and equally long in London will be presented for the first time on the Eastern Shore for six performances on November 13 to 16 at the Salisbury State Theater.

Inspiration for Godspell, the hit musical, occurred on a snowy Easter Sunday. Long-haired author, John-Michael Tebelak, at that time a 21 year old student at Carnegie-Mellon University first conceived of a rock musical dealing with love, charity and Christian virtues at the sunrise service when he was stopped and frisked for drugs in the nave of St. Paul's Cathedral by a Pittsburgh policeman.

Reservations for Godspell, the musical combines salvation rock tunes and country rhythms, balancing vaudeville godliness and sassiness, can be made by simply calling the Salisbury State Theatre Box Office at 546-3261, Ext. 498, beginning the week of November 3, 1975, between 1:00 and 5:00 p.m.

All persons interested in working in any aspect of the Theatre are invited and urged to attend the next meeting of the Salisbury State Theatre Association (Sophanes), or to simply stop by the Theatre office located under the stage of Holloway Hall. The topic of most consideration will concern the production of Godspell. The meeting will be held in the Holloway Hall auditorium on Tuesday, October 21, at 10:00 p.m. Everyone interested are welcomed to attend.

Tickets will be sold at the group rate of $3.00 a piece, and only a limited number will be available. Free transportation by coach bus to and from Arena Stage will be provided. For further details, contact Dr. Wm. Horne, Department of English (ext. 487).

GODSPELL

The Broadway hit, GODSPELL, will be produced for the first time on the Eastern Shore by the Salisbury State Theatre Association for six performances on November 13, 14, 15, and 16. A popular rock-musical, GODSPELL had a well-received run of three years in New York and was as eagerly accepted in the city of London.

A loveable production that endears itself to those who witness it, GODSPELL's originator John-Michael Tebelak and lyricist/composer Stephen Schwartz have provided an invigorating and fresh look at the show's subject: the Gospel according to St. Matthew. From the baptismal scene with John the Baptist, a group of 'disciples' accept the coming of Jesus Christ and his teaching of parables. They join in portraying Christ's life in modern expressions up to his betrayal, crucifixion and resurrection.

Reservation for this joyous presentation can be made by calling the S.S.C. Theatre Box Office at 546-3261, Ext. 498 beginning November 3 between 1-5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

MYRA BRECKINBRIDGE November 14

Gore Vidal's transsexual novel about a man turned into a male-hating superwoman via operation. Welch is the well-stacked Myra; Reed, her subconscious alter ego (Myron); West, lecherous head of a "talent" agency and Houston, an ex-cowboy star. When Welch tried to claim an inheritance from a suspicious Houston, he investigates her so she plans a sexual revolt to undermine every manhood. Meanwhile back at the agency, Marvelous Mae (the old-time master of double entendre) is nimbly tossing off salty one-liners. Clips from old Fox movies intercut into present action are amusing.

DECEMBER GRADS

There has recently been some confusion regarding Fall Graduation. The following is an attempt to clear up any misunderstandings.

Fall Graduation will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, December 20, 1975 in Holloway Hall Auditorium. Those seniors who expect to graduate should make arrangements with their instructors to take their final examinations earlier so that their final grades can be turned in to the Registrar's Office no later than December 15. The Registrar's Office will work during the week before graduation to "clear students for graduation."

Those students who do not qualify for graduation will be informed and offered the opportunity to march in the graduation ceremonies. We do anticipate that we will have diplomas for all those students who do meet graduation requirements. One note, however: there is a possibility that the diplomas will not arrive in time, in which case they will be available for pick-up in the Registrar's Office and/or mailing, but all students will be aware of their graduation status prior to December 20.

Regarding invitations, there is a chance that if the graduating class exceeds 100 there may be a limit of five or six invitations/tickets per graduating senior with the understanding that if any graduating senior does not use his full quota of tickets, those tickets could be used by other people. Since we do not yet have accurate figures on the size of the graduating class, more information will have to be supplied later.

I sincerely hope that this clears up any misunderstandings and apologize for any inconvenience or concern that graduating seniors may have experienced. Our apologies also to faculty members whose plans for their classes may be affected by this policy. As you all know, this is a new procedure for us and there are bound to be "bugs." We ask for your patience and understanding.

SCHEDULE & INFORMATION

Final Exams
Fall 1975-76

Examination times are determined by the initial hour at which the class meets each week unless the course is specifically listed on the schedule above.

For classes which have their initial weekly meeting on Wednesday or Friday but not on Monday, use the comparable Monday meeting time. For classes which have their initial meeting time on Thursday, but not on Tuesday, use the comparable Tuesday meeting time.

If the class meets for longer than one hour, the first hour is applicable.

In lecture-lab classes, the exam time is determined by the lecture hour time during the examination period December 15 - December 19, and should be designed to utilize at least a two hour exam period even if the normal class time is less than two hours (E.G., English 101-74, History 101-77).

All single-section courses will hold examinations in the room in which the class regularly meets unless otherwise announced by the instructor.

Examination locations for multiple-section courses will be announced in each class by the instructor by Monday, December 8.

Students should report examination conflicts to the office of the Academic Dean, in writing by Wednesday, December 3, so that appropriate rescheduling arrangements can be made. Reports of conflicts should indicate: (1) the complete exam schedule of the student, including names of instructors, so that conflicts may be resolved at the convenience of both student and instructor, and (2) address at which the student may be reached to report rescheduling arrangements.

Students having three or more examinations on the same day may petition the Academic Dean, in Writing, to reschedule one exam. This should be done by Wednesday, December 3. Petitions for rescheduling should indicate: (1) the complete exam schedule of the student, including names of instructors, so that rescheduling may be arranged at the convenience of both student and instructors, and (2) address at which student may be reached to report rescheduling arrangements.

Have $3.00 cash ready when we deliver your book personally to you. Have $3.00 cash ready when we deliver your book impersonally to you. In any event, have $3 ready when we arrive. For those of you who might feel the need to pay us in pennies, there are those of us who might feel the need to hand you your book one page at a time. Fair is fair. P.S. A free copy of the 1974 EVERGREEN yearbook is available to anyone. Jist come'n'git it.

Music Program

SSC CHRISTMAS MUSIC

Four Salisbury State College music groups will present a unique Christmas Music Program, sponsored by the Music Department, on Sunday, December 7, at 5:00 p.m. in Holloway Hall Auditorium. The program, featuring a wide variety of music styles, is open to the public without charge.

The Concert prelude of familiar Christmas carols will begin at 4:40 p.m. and will be played on the College Carillon by Mr. Bill Thompson, the Director of Instructional Resources.

First of the four, the College Chorus, conducted by Dr. Jessie L. Fleming, with Dr. Ray Zeigler playing accompaniments, will sing a group of modern carols by Alfred Burt. These were written as musical Christmas greetings by Mr. Burt and his son. Some of the Burt carols will be sung by the Men's Chorus, conducted by Dr. Arthur Delpaz, and by the Women's Chorus. The chorus and band will combine to sing the last two in this group, also conducted by Dr. Delpaz.

A featured work in the chorus section of the program is Ken Darby's musical setting of "Twas the Night Before Christmas." Soloists are Krista Miller of Hampstead, Maryland, Steve White of Waldorf, Maryland and Tim Abbott of Bridgeville, Delaware.

Second will be the Salisbury State College Jazz Ensemble, now in its fifth year of existence. It will perform music written specifically for that medium of expression. Opening with the 1973 Carole King hit, "Corazon," arranged for jazz band, this existing Latin-rock chart features an alto saxophone solo in the style of Woody Herman. For contrast, the next selection, "Willow Gold," is in ballad style and 7/4 meter. Since this is a seasonal concert, the ensemble plays two favorite secular songs, Leroy Anderson's "Sleigh Ride" and the heartwarming "Christmas Song." "Peace on Earth," a jazz and rock expression of that elusive state, seldom present on this planet, leads the ensemble to their concluding selection. With the passing of Duke Ellington, many accolades, verbal and musical, were paid to the stature of this man in the field of jazz. Sammy Nestico has fashioned a memorable "Tribute to the Duke," utilizing three of his finest compositions.

The third unit will be the SSC Concert Band. Its contribution at this joyous time of year includes two contrasting medleys, the first joining "Angels We Have Heard On High," "Bring A Torch, Jeanette Isabella," and "What Child Is This." The second medley is secular in nature and includes "Winter Wonderland," "Silver Bells," and "The Christmas Song." The instrumental highlight of this part of the program will be Alfred Reed's arrangement of "Russian Christmas Music." Based on liturgical music of the Eastern Orthodox Church, this exciting selection is sub-titled, "Children's Carol," "Antiphonal Chant," "Village Song," and "Cathedral Chorus." It is believed that this is a premiere performance of this work in the Salisbury area. The conductor of the Concert Band and the Jazz Ensemble is Mr. Charles F. Smith, Jr.

Finally, the Chamber Choir, a select group of 28 voices, will be performing Lloyd Pfautch's A Day for Dancing. The work consists of nine Medieval carols, sung in English, which are intended to accompany dancing. In several cases, the dance consists simply of free interpretive movement.

The music, written and arranged by Pfautch, contains many early Christmas melodies, but in a modern harmonic idiom. The work is accompanied by flute, oboe, bassoon and light percussion. The instrumentalist will be Bill Jones, flute; Richard Van Breemen, oboe; John Mumford, bassoon; and Ted Nichols, percussion.

Dr. Ray H. Zeigler, Jr., is the conductor of the Chamber Choir. Rick Givens, a senior, from Laurel, Delaware, is the regular accompanist for this ensemble.

The program will be concluded with the Chorus and Band performing "Let There Be Peace on Earth," with Dr. Fleming conducting.

Mini-mester

The College will offer 13 courses in a special Winter Minimester program from December 22 until January 9.

Under the intensified study program, a registrant may complete the following courses in the three-week period:

Business Administration: Personal Finance and Selected Problems in Business Education: Independent Study.

General Services: Field Study in Gymnastics, Consumer Economics, Current Economic Issues, File Creation and Maintenance in PL/1, Using Photography in Education, and Illustration.

Geography: Introduction to Geography Selected Problems, and Readings in Geography.

Psychology: Independent Study.

Dr. Harold Schaffer, Director of Continuing Education, points out that the Minimester provides a framework of flexibility, non-traditional, individual and intensified study.

Bulletins and registration forms are available in the Office of Continuing Education, Caruthers Hall.

ORIENTATION TOUR

Cadets from Air Force ROTC Detachment 330A, University of Maryland, Eastern Shore flew to Patrick Air Force Base, Cocoa Beach, Florida, recently for an orientation tour of an Air Force installation.

During the tour, the cadets who plan on serving in the Air Force after graduating from college had an opportunity to inspect different types of aircraft and view airport operations. In fact, prior to departing for Florida, the cadets were taken on a special tour of VIP aircraft at Andrews Air Force Base, Washington, D. C.

The AFROTC program offers both UMES and Salisbury State students the opportunity to prepare for an Air Force career. Two SSC students, ROTC Cadets Daniel Kenney and Ray Adkins, joined UMES Cadets George Palmer, Leon Johnson, and Paulette Jones on the trip to Florida. They were accompanied by Mr.

MCEA NEEDS HELP

Salisbury State College's chapter of the Maryland Classified Employees Association has committed itself to provide 15 Christmas baskets for the needy in the community. Since everyone is aware of the high cost of food, we are asking for contributions of canned goods and non-perishable staples. Large boxes are begin placed in the lobbies of Holloway Hall, Caruthers Hall, Devilbiss Science Hall and the Student Union for your convenience.

How about looking over your stock of canned goods and bringing in that can of peas, beans, etc. that has been taking up room on your shelf and which you probably will never open. The Chapter will provide the meat, fresh fruits and vegetables and perishable items, however, we would welcome any item that you would care to donate.

Also, if you know of anyone in the College community who is deserving of a basket, please notify Dee Hedrick on extension 271.

Your cooperation is appreciated.

They included Jerilyn DiBagno, Joan Bromhall Kjeldsen, Wayne H. Muir, Peter Andrew Nagler, M. Joan Scally, Salisbury, Lynn Therese Isenberg, Hurlock; Catherine A. Jerman, Newark; Denise A. Jonezak, Baltimore; Diane Jones, Battery Park, Virginia; Lemuel Bruce Massey, Willards; Rocco M. Paone, Jr., Annapolis; Dorothy Marie Parry, Goldsboro; Patrick Michael Rockelli, Oxon Hill; David T. Dr. M. G. LesCallette, the Chapter advisor, described the organization as one composed of students and professors who have been elected to membership on the basis of excellence of performance in twelve hours of history as well as a B average in 2/3 of the other courses in which they have enrolled. It is therefore essentially an interdisciplinary society rather than exclusively designed for history majors.

DECEMBER 5 THE LAST DETAIL

The tremendous box office hit and Academy Award Nominee, this film is a wildly raucous and poetically complex portrait of an arrogant but sensitive sailor played by Jack Nicholson. It is the compassionate story of two veteran sailors who escort a young recruit to the brig. Their no-holds-barred last fling builds in salty humor and makes one of the richest character studies in years. The best American film so far this year and the best thing in it is Jack Nicholson.

Along with Jack Nicholson there is Otis Young and Randy Quaid.

DEC. 12 THE WAY WE WERE

An academy award winning film, Robert Redford and Barbara Streisand are excellent in this romantic love story. Streisand is a frizzy-haired Communist and Redford is a straw-haired jock out to have a good time. Streisand's performance was hailed by virtually all the critics. "THE WAY WE WERE is everything a movie should be: a love story that is a mirror of the wants of many. The casting is nothing short of miraculous," Norma McLain Stoop After Dark.

Jobs!

Applications are now being accepted from college students for summer jobs with the Maryland Department of Transportation. Students applying must be Maryland citizens and show proof of their intention to continue their education.

The positions, which range from stenographers to technical assistants, offer students an opportunity to earn both wages and valuable experience in their field of study.

Jobs are available throughout Maryland with those on the Eastern Shore and in the state's western counties being the hardest to fill. While positions are available in such fields as accounting, chemistry, engineering, electronics, economics, journalism, urban and transportation planning, these are also the fields in which there is the most competition for the jobs. Students are also urged to consider other fields as well.

Wages range from $2.60 to $3.80 per hour, depending on the position and the number of summers the individual employee has worked for the department.

The deadline for applications is March 15, 1976, and all interested students are urged to see their school's placement officer or visit the nearest Maryland Department of Employment Security office for details and applications. Baltimore area students can also file applications at the Baltimore Urban League in the Mondawmin Concourse. The Maryland Department of Transportation is an Equal Employment Opportunity employer.

The department's Student Summer Employment Program is now in its fifth year and has offered 2,400 students summer work opportunities during that time.

UNITED STATES ARMED ARMED BICENTENNIAL BAND

The United States Armed Forces Bicentennial Band will make an Eastern Shore entertainment stop at Salisbury State on January 29.

Free tickets may be picked up at the College Center Office during working hours from Monday through Friday.

The famed 65-piece Band and 24-piece Chorus will appear at Holloway Hall Auditorium at 8 P.M.

Authorized in 1974 and formed in January, 1975, the units were designated to represent the Department of Defense in celebration of the Bicentennial throughout the nation.

During its two year existence, the Band and Chorus will perform in every state capital and as many other cities and towns as possible. The 90 performers will spend over 200 days traveling throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. In less than a year, the group has accomplished more than 25,000 miles, and entertained about half a million people.

The joint service organization which became known as "America's Own" in 1975, consists of Army, Marine Corps, Air Force and Coast Guard Members. There are 65 instrumentalists in the band, and 24 voices in the evenly divided mixed chorus.

The band and chorus members come from more than 30 states and the District of Columbia; their ages range from 18 to over 40 years; and their time in service extends from under two years to more than 20.

Headquartered at Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, the unit represents the finest of military musicians, each specially interviewed and auditioned for a place in the band or chorus. Though inter-service bands have been assembled for special events, this is the first musical unit to combine all five services for an extended period of two years.

In its concerts, which are always free and open to the public, the band and chorus performs the very best of American music from our first two hundred years.

There will be celebration throughout the land, and the Bicentennial Band and Chorus is doing its best to ensure 1976 will be a proud moment in American history.

HOLLOWAY HALL AUD.

A modern film version of the old Shakespeare love story of two young people who find their love must be a secret because of the prejudices of their parents. "Romeo and Juliet" is the love story of all time that will definitely affect your emotions and have you involved in their trials and tribulations of a love they have for each other that they wish they could tell the whole world about but must keep to themselves.

"THE CONVERSATION"
DSH 149

This film is about privacy, using the theme of eavesdropping and wiretapping. Focusing on the personal life of an "electronic surveillance technician" rather than on his victims, director Coppola offers a sheer thriller, a psychological study, a social analysis and a political comment. Gene Hackman, the best bugger in the West, fanatically protective of his own privacy, is master, and perhaps unwittingly, a servant of his craft. During an assignment (the uncovering of possible adultery) he becomes involved in a situation against his will which uncovers a recurrent guilt paranoia that eventually loosens his grip on reality.

Issues

Issues in College Teaching

The Committee on Issues in College Teaching has been meeting to develop its procedures for carrying out the charge it received from the faculty conference:

"To identify and evaluate in depth, issues and developments in contemporary education. It will find the appropriate means of bringing these to the attention of the teaching faculty through lectures, symposia, debates, seminars, and other formats."

The Committee has translated this statement to mean finding ways of improving teaching at SSC in a non-threatening way to professors. We have set up four sub-committees to look at specific areas:

Don Cathcart will head up a sub-committee on developing ways for student evaluations to contribute in improving teaching.

John Knowles and Robert Long are co-chairing a sub-committee dealing with facilitating and supporting innovation and general interest in teaching itself.

Phillip Bosserman is chairing a sub-committee to survey faculty members as to their attitudes about teaching, students, the college setting, seeking to stimulate awareness and to give each one an opportunity to express himself on these issues.

The Committee would like to invite other faculty and especially students to consider these various sub-committees and indicate to the chairperson that he or she is interested in that area of investigation.

Seniors!

DEC '75 & MAY '76 GRADS

As a result of scheduling problems, many of this year's seniors were not photographed by the portrait photographers. Fear not, because all is not lost if you have plans to be in the senior section of the '76 EVERGREEN yearbook. You may send in a picture to the staff or you may have the staff take a picture of you.

If you supply a picture, it becomes the property of the EVERGREEN until such time when it is returned. It will be marked on, front and back, so no family heirlooms or priceless photos should be submitted. The picture will be cropped leaving a basic head and shoulders pose. Somewhat formal attire is suggested although nonraggy looking clothing will do.

Pictures should be submitted to Box 708 SUB no later than 4:00 p.m. on Monday, March 15. Any photographs taken by the staff are for the expressed purpose of appearing in the yearbook. The print will be provided to the student, if so desired, only after the yearbook staff is completely finished with it. No additional copies of these prints will be provided.

Program

Business Administration and Economics Departments

Two representatives of the Credit Union National Association, Madison, Wisconsin, will present a program for the Business Administration and Economics Department on Tuesday, February 24.

Peter Livingston, CUNA's Assistant Managing Director for Research, and Dr. Robert C. Von der Ohe, Staff Economist, will present the program at Devilbiss Science Hall 149 from 2 to 5 p.m. It will be entitled "Electronic Funds Transfer - It's Impact on Financial Institutions."

All financial institutions in the area have been especially invited.

Mr. Livingston's duties include helping management enhance the movement's understanding of credit unions, leagues and their related service organizations, and the Credit Union National Association itself through assessing the economic and social environment in which the credit union movement exists. He is also the coordinator and project manager in electronic funds transfer for CUNA and ICU Services Corporation which provides specialized services to credit unions.

Dr. Von der Ohe was an assistant professor of economics at Salisbury State College, Salisbury, Maryland, from 1969 until he joined the staff at CUNA. From 1967 - 1969 he was on the faculty of Knoxville College, Knoxville, Tennessee, also an assistant professor of economics.

He became involved in the credit union movement when he was a volunteer in the Peace Corps from 1963 - 1965. He served as comptroller and assistant manager in the Ecuadorian National Credit Union Federation.

"OUR TOWN"

Presented by
Salisbury State Theatre

The Salisbury State Theatre will present Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer prize winning play Our Town on March 19-20 and 25-28. This classic American play is the most representational of the theme of our Nation's bicentennial, and the Theatre Association's (Sophanes) major production of the year.

Thornton Wilder seems to search for an ultimate value for life above all else in Our Town within the simple inhabitants of a small New Hampshire town. Brooks Adkins of the New York Times describes the impact of the 1959 New York production: "A deeply moving play because it's beautifully imagined and written with simplicity and faith in America. Everyone has been profoundly moved by this production. In view of the unhurried simplicity of the narrative, the emotional power it has on the audience seems extraordinary."

This unique production of Our Town is being directed by Dr. Leland Starnes, Director of the Theatre at Salisbury. Mr. Robert K. Cloyd, Designer for the Theatre, has designed an unusual thrust-stage set for the production, making use of the total environment in Caruthers Auditorium. He is, also, designing the costumes for the show with Colleen Grimmell, a talented student who designed the costumes for the Salisbury State Theatre productions of Dark of the Moon, Medieval Christmas and Waiting for Godot. Thomas Clemens, Technical Director of the Theatre, is designing the extensive lighting of Our Town.

The cast of Our Town at Salisbury State includes: Dr. Robert J. Wesley, Chairman of the Communication Arts Department, as the Stage Manager, Cathe Adkins as Emily Webb, Jerry Lucas as George Gibbs, Dixon Gourley and Ann Northam as Dr. and Mrs. Gibbs; and Charles Deemer and Kelly Rouse as Mr. and Mrs. Webb.

The special compassionate voice of playwright Thornton Wilder is perhaps heard most clearly in the play's last speech, in which the homespun Stage Manager glances up at the night sky and idly remarks that wise men seem to think none of the other stars is inhabitable. "Only this one," he adds, by way of benediction, "is straining away, straining away, all the time to make something of itself."

For information or reservations for the production, simply call the Salisbury State Theatre Box Office at 546-3261, Ext. 498, any weekday after February 22.

BONAPARTE & THE REVOLUTION

The Bicentennial Film Series of Salisbury State College presents "Bonaparte and the Revolution" (1926-1972), a film by Abel Gance, on Sunday, 29 February 1976, at 7 p.m. in Holloway Hall Auditorium, newly equipped for motion picture projection.

Though some Americans were later horrified by the excesses of the French Revolution, many felt themselves united with their French brethren in the Revolutionary spirit. To celebrate that other Revolution, therefore, the College Center proudly presents this ground-breaking epic motion picture by Abel Gance, the pioneering director who should rightly be considered the D. W. Griffith of France.

Gance's film "Bonaparte and the Revolution" was nearly fifty years in the making. It began in 1925/26 as the epic five-hour "Napoleon", which was remade as a sound film in 1934. (Abel Gance made the first talking picture in France some five years earlier; he was also the inventor of what we now call "Cinerama.") In 1972 Gance remade "Napoleon" again, this time in collaboration with Claude Lelouch, the director of "A Man and A Woman". The latest version, which ran to four hours and fourteen minutes, was entitled "Bonaparte and the Revolution". It has hardly been seen outside of New York City in this country, for it has just recently become available here in 16mm. Last month it played to an audience of approximately 900 people at the University of Washington. Its availability will surely help to reestablish Abel Gance's reputation as a significant director in this country, where his work has not been widely seen.

This film is the first to be shown in our fully renovated auditorium in Holloway Hall, now equipped with a new screen and twin arc projectors. Come and see this historically important motion picture in the comfort of this new facility.

Seniors!

As a result of scheduling problems, many of this year's seniors were not photographed by the portrait photographers. Fear not, because all is not lost if you have plans to be in the senior section of the '76 EVERGREEN yearbook. You may send in a picture to the staff or you may have the staff take a picture of you.

If you supply a picture, it becomes the property of the EVERGREEN until such time when it is returned. It will be marked on, front and back, so no family heirlooms or priceless photos should be submitted. The picture will be cropped leaving a basic head and shoulders pose. Somewhat formal attire is suggested although nonraggy looking clothing will do.

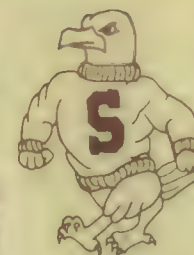

Pictures should be submitted to Box 708 SUB no later than 4:00 p.m. on Monday, March 15. Any photographs taken by the staff are for the expressed purpose of appearing in the yearbook. The print will be provided to the student, if so desired, only after the yearbook staff is completely finished with it. No additional copies of these prints will be provided.

Jazz

Another Bicentennial Event at SSC

The Salisbury State College Jazz Ensemble, under the direction of Mr. Charles F. Smith, Jr., will initiate the Spring concert offerings of the college music department on Wednesday, March 17, at Holloway Hall Auditorium at 7:00 p.m.

Included in the program will be contemporary jazz interpretations, as well as a panorama of lighting effects.

The 23-member organization will feature a jazz arrangement of "Pop! Goes the Weasel," a trumpet lead in the style of Doc Severinsen entitled "Doc's Holiday" and played by senior Phil Perdue. "Big Orange" and "Gaza Strip," two contemporary jazz-rock mergers, and a rhythmically complex arrangement, "Speer'Chul" will offer additional diversity within the jazz medium.

Two extended selections are "Time Table", a multi-metered original composition by Hank Levy, the conductor of the award-winning Towson State College Jazz Ensemble, and one of last semester's favorites, a medley of Duke Ellington's famous tunes.

Following this concert, subsequent Sunday afternoon performances will include the College Chamber Choir on March 21, the Concert Band on March 28 and the College Chorus on April 4.

Department of Education Sponsors "Dance for Joy"

The Education Department of Salisbury State College will host a dance group from Ulverston, Cumbria, England, April 3rd through April 9th on campus. This program is being arranged by Dr. Maurice Bozman, Associate Professor of Education and Coordinator of the Summer British Open Education Workshop at Salisbury State College.

This group, "Dance for Joy", has danced in several English cathedrals, performed before thousands of school children, students, and adults throughout England, and made a series of films for the British Broadcasting Company.

The performers have been trained in the Educational Modern Dance as expounded by Rudolphe Laban, currently practiced in British Primary Schools.

"Dance for Joy" is composed of eleven talented girls ranging in age from 16 to 21, trained under the guidance of Ms. Enid Hobba for eight years. They will be staying in the dormitories as guests of resident students.

This group will be available to conduct workshops and programs for children in the public schools and will present two programs at Salisbury State College. Both will be on Sunday, April 4th, the matinee for children at 2 p.m. in Caruthers gymnasium, and an evening performance for college students and the general public at 8 p.m. in Holloway Hall Auditorium. Free tickets are available at the College Center Office in the Memorial Student Union, or call 546-3261 ext. 235.

The SALISBURY STATE COLLEGE WEEKLY NEWSLETTER is published weekly for students, faculty, administration and staff as a communications medium under the direction of the Public Relations Office. Deadline for reception of news is Monday, Noon.

Department of Mathematical Sciences

The Department of Mathematical Sciences in conjunction with the Departments of Biology and Physical Sciences will present an Environmental Mathematics Lecture on Monday, March 15, at 3 p.m. in Devilbiss Hall 225. The speaker will be Dr. F. S. Roberts, and his topic will be "Graphs, Garbage and Pollution-Solutions". At 4 p.m. on the same day he will speak on "Signed Diagrams and The Energy Crisis".

Prof. Roberts is in the Department of Mathematics at Rutgers University. He received his Ph.D. from Stanford University. He is currently finishing a book that deals with discrete models in the biological and environmental sciences. He is interested in applications of mathematics to environmental science at all levels. Theatre News

PREPARATIONS FOR "OUR TOWN" BEING MADE

Preparations for the opening performances of the Salisbury State Theatre's production of Thornton Wilder's highly acclaimed and overwhelmingly popular Pulitzer-Prize winning play, "Our Town" are being made with enthusiastic anticipation. The production will run on the 19th and 20th and the 25th through the 28th.

Many students remained in Salisbury throughout the Spring break in order to ready all technical aspects of the show. Lighting and level-setting, sound execution, set construction, and other areas were readied and problems worked out as Dr. Leland Starnes, Director for the Theatre, rehearsed his large cast of "Our Town" in order to prepare a fine rendition of a unique production of Wilder's masterpiece.

Bob Cloyd, Designer for the Theatre, and Dr. Starnes are very pleased with the set for "Our Town". Using no conventional scenery, and minimal props, that suggest rather than illustrate, Mr. Cloyd has made ingenious use of many interesting theatrical elements. Exposed lighting instruments, stage weights and wall flats that are in view of the audience, playing areas in the aisles and front of the stage, all add to the total theatre environment created in Caruthers Auditorium.

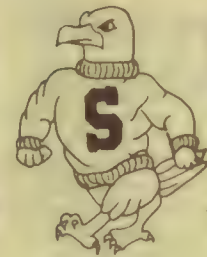

In many instances the only scenery to be used is created solely by lighting techniques. Projections with gobos-metallic plates with designs cut into them and a large number of individual areas to be lighted add to the deceptively complex lighting of "Our Town" (even more complex than "Godspell"). Tom Clemens, Technical Director and Lighting Designer for the Theatre, has designed the elaborate lighting for the show, that will include four individual control boards and numerous re-plugging of instruments to give a versatility to the lighting and to make it feasible to execute.

With all aspects meshed together properly, giving a sense of ease and natural flow to the show, the production is a unique one and well worthwhile for anyone interested in fine theatre.

Information or reservations can be attained by stopping by the Theatre Box Office, located just inside the double-doors at Holloway Hall, or by calling 546-3261, Ext. 498, any weekday between 1:00 and 5:00 p.m. throughout the dates of the production.

No Animals in the College Center

"Section .074 of the State and County Health Law forbids animals in any area where food is being prepared or served except for a seeing eye dog which is on a leash and accompanied by a blind person".

In the past, visits to the College Center by our animal friends have been at a minimum. However, the past several weeks has seen a marked increase in these visits to the College Center and in particular the Snack Bar. Additionally, both the Director of Food Services and myself have been receiving complaints from students regarding the dogs in the Snack Bar and on occasion in the Dining Hall.

We would like to elicit the cooperation of everyone using the College Center in reducing the visits by our canine acquaintances and eliminating animal use of the Snack Bar in particular.

Guest Speaker

His talk will focus on the rationale for and the legality of state and local obscenity codes, on their effectiveness in dealing with the distribution of "pornographic" books and movies, and on some of the constitutional issues raised in attempts to prosecute such cases.

Joining Mr. Kaminkow in a panel discussion of this topic will be Rev. Lewis McKinney, pastor of Allen Memorial Baptist Church, Dr. Alfred C. Kolls, Salisbury physician, and Mr. Sheldon Seidel, Wicomico County attorney.

PROGRAM OF HUMOR

Will Rogers, Jr., son of the late Will Rogers, will present a program of humor, stories and reminiscences of his famous father at Salisbury State College's Holloway Hall on Tuesday, March 23, at 8 p.m.

There is no charge for admission. Tickets are available every week day between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the College Center.

Newspaper publisher, foreign correspondent, United States Congressman, a tank commander in Europe in World War II, a government administrator in California and in Washington, movie actor, lecturer and TV host and commentator, such is a thumbnail account of the colorful career of Will Rogers, Jr.

In 1911, at the time of Will Jr.'s birth, Will Sr. was appearing in the Ziegfeld Follies. For the next few years the family lived in New York City, Oklahoma, and Arkansas. In 1919 Will Sr. began appearing in silent pictures and the family moved to Beverly Hills, California. Here Will Rogers, Jr. attended public school. At Beverly Hills High he took part in swimming and debate and was editor of the high school newspaper.

Upon high school graduation, he entered Stanford University. There he set a back-stroke swimming record, captained the Stanford Polo Team, debated over the radio against Oxford University in the world's first trans-oceanic-trans-continental debate, and with his partner won the Western Conference Debate Championship. He worked on the Stanford Daily and also was editor of the off-campus publication "News". He majored in philosophy and graduated with the class of 1935.

On August 15th of that year his father was tragically killed, with Wiley Post, in an airplane accident near Pt. Barrow, Alaska. A few months later, Will Jr. purchased the Beverly Hills Citizen, a weekly newspaper upon which he had also worked as high school correspondent. For his newspaper and the McNaught Syndicate he covered the Spanish Civil War in 1936-37. By the late 1930's, the Beverly Hills Citizen was the largest weekly newspaper in the west.

In June, 1939, he married a former Stanford classmate, Collier Connell. They had first met on the Stanford Daily where she was woman's editor and he was just joining the staff.

A Democrat and active in political affairs, Will Rogers, Jr. was in 1942 elected to the United States Congress from the 16th District of California, in a campaign while he was serving as a Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Army.

He resigned from Congress in 1944 to re-enter the army and was sent to

England to join the 814th Tank Destroyer Battalion attached to the Seventh Armoured Division. His unit landed in France a month after D-Day, and his was one of the reconnaissance platoons that raced across France in General Patton's dash to the German border. In the Battle of the Bulge his unit lost several men and all their vehicles, but managed to escape by hanging onto the sides of friendly tanks. He was wounded in the battle of the Rhur in the last week of the war and spent several months in hospitals in England and France.

In 1953, after publishing it for eighteen years, Will Rogers, Jr. sold the Beverly Hills Citizen, but continued writing magazine articles. He had a radio serial, "Rogers of the Gazette," on CBS; took the leading role in a revival of "Ah Wilderness" at the Pasadena Playhouse; he appeared on many television programs; and was active in Beverly Hills civic and real estate affairs.

In 1957, he came to New York to host a two-hour television program of news, music and interviews, the "Good Morning Show," for CBS. It continued until the summer of 1958. That year Governor Pat Brown appointed Rogers to the California State Park Commission. In 1960, he became its chairman, serving until 1962.

In 1967, Stewart Udall, then Secretary on Interior, appointed Rogers Special Assistant to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. Moving to Washington, Rogers specialized in Indian education — spending two-thirds of his time out on the reservations. Rogers left this position in 1969, but remains a part-time consultant to the Bureau.

In recent years he has divided his energies between his real estate business in Beverly Hills and his ranch in Tubac, Arizona. He continues active in Indian affairs, making occasional trips for the Indian Bureau. A well-known lecturer, he continues active in this field.

Poetry Readings

Lucille Clifton, nationally known author and poet, will present a reading of her poetry March 31 in the Social Room of Holloway Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Clifton, a gifted and prolific writer of poems and books for children, is the author of An Ordinary Woman, Good Times and Good News About the Earth, three collections of poems which reflect her strength, her warmth, and her hopefulness for people and the world. Most recently, she has published Generations: A Memoir, a loving commemoration of her family, beginning with "Mammy" Ca'line, born in Africa in 1822, and tracing the family from their years as victims of slavery to victorious emergence as free and proud inheritors sustained by the blood and spirit of "those Da-homey women".

Mrs. Clifton, who lives with her husband and six children in Baltimore, has been hailed by critics as one of today's most gifted black woman poets. Her poetry has been praised for its "lean, hard, and graceful" style, and Generations has been called "a delicate, poignant accolade to generational survival" and "a moving celebration of her family". She is a writer of impressive dignity and force.

THE FORTUNE

A pair of scoundrels take off on a cross-country jaunt with a mad-cap heiress in an attempt to extract her from her fortune. The time is the 1920's and the con-men are Warren Beatty and Jack Nicholson. Nicholson, sporting an Art Garfunkel hairo, does a Stan Laurel interpretation, mingling tears, ineptness and innocence, while Beatty is slick, sleek and equally inept as the Oliver Hardy-like brains of the two. The humor concocted by these two is frenzied and hilarious abandon.

LAW STUDENTS WHO SUED
AGNEW TO SPEAK AT COLLEGE

Last December, Bruce Feder and Roy Baldwin, two George Washington University law students, sued the Federal Government under the Freedom of Information Act to obtain "any and all" materials in the government's possession relating to the investigation of former Vice President Spiro Agnew. Their object was to make public all the evidence upon which Agnew was fined $10,000 and placed on unsupervised probation. "We share the feelings of many Americans," Baldwin said, "that the record is not complete in this case."

Although the court's decision to release the documents has not yet been made, these two men have, by their actions, publicized the significant uses that can be made of this heretofore little-known but crucial Act. On Thursday, March 25th at 8:00 p.m. in the Holloway Hall Social Room, Feder and Baldwin will speak about the Act and their suit in Salisbury State College's sixth and final program on Censorship in America. Entitled "The Citizen's Right to Public Information: Putting the Freedom of Information Act to Good Use," their presentation will cover the history of the Act, illustrate the law's usefulness, and will explain what kinds of information citizens ought to be concerned about obtaining from local, state and federal public servants.

This program is free, and the public is cordially invited to attend. The Project on Censorship is a "People Project" sponsored by a grant from the Maryland Committee for the Humanities and Public Policy, an affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Poetry Readings

Epstein: Nationally Renowned Poet To Give Readings

Daniel Mark Epstein, nationally renowned young poet, will give a reading of his works Thursday, April 1 in the Social Room of Holloway Hall at 8:00 p.m. It is jointly sponsored by the SSC English Department and the College Center Program Board.

A 27 year-old native of Baltimore, Epstein has in the past few years established himself as a first-rate poet. His works were first published when he was 16, and he has appeared in such prestigious magazines as The New Yorker and The Nation. Mr. Epstein has been the recipient of numerous prizes, among them the 1969 Robert Frost Award and the 1972 Stephen Vincent Benet Award.

Epstein has drawn critical raves for his work, particularly for his 1973 collection of poetry, No Vacancies In Hell. In the words of one critic, the volume is "A book of formidable virtues. His style is forceful, in Browingsque interlocked harshness, in the ruggedly mimetic, in the anti-lyrical. He is already a good poet . . . he may become one of the best poets of the century."

In composing his verses, Epstein draws from his own, very broad experiences. Many of his poems deal with Baltimore themes, such as his poem "The Block", in which the poet's own uncle laments how the place, having been cleaned up, just isn't any fun anymore.

His language is simple, yet carefully wrought, and it can impress a listener with unusual image or phrase, amuse with its good natured humour, or shock with its sudden ribaldry.

"ISSUES '76"

"Issues '76", a series of four films and discussions dealing with dwindling economic and cultural resources in America and the world, will be presented Wednesday, March 31, at 8:00 p.m. in the Social Room in Holloway Hall.

Sponsored by the College Center Board, the series will focus on contemporary issues that affect the life of every citizen. Of particular interest to Eastern Shore residents will be the programs on development of wetlands and the oil crisis.

"We're presenting important and controversial issues to the campus and the public", commented CCPB Director Dave Ganoe. "We want people to be more concerned about what's happening to the environment and the economy and what they can do about it. If we get good response we plan to continue the series next fall."

After presentation of each film there will be a discussion headed by a faculty member. There will also be refreshments. The schedule for the films is as follows:

Wednesday, March 31 - "Billion Dollar Marsh". Shot in the wetlands of New Jersey, Virginia and Georgia, the film explores the conflict of interests between developers and conservationists and traces what is happening in one of the largest marshlands in the world. To developers these marshes are thousands of wasted acres that could be drained for housing and industry. To others the marshes are a valuable economic and aesthetic resources that must be preserved. The film contrasts the two philosophies and suggests that it's time to choose and change.

The discussion will be directed by Dr. Harry Womack, Professor of Biology.

Writing Contest

Win a Cash Award!

The English Department is sponsoring for the fifth consecutive year, a writing competition open to all Salisbury State students, cash awards to be presented on Monday, April 19th, at the annual writing awards ceremony. The speaker this year will be a distinguished young American poet, Galway Kinnell.

Award categories are: short story, poetry (single poem or collection), play or film-script, and essay. An award will also be offered for the best freshman essay. All students wishing to participate in the contest must enter their own work. Manuscripts should be submitted to Margaret McBriety in the English Office, HH 349. Entry deadline is April 5th at 4 p.m.

Music

CONCERT BAND

The Salisbury State College Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Charles F. Smith, Jr. will continue the Spring concert offerings of the college music department on Sunday, March 28, at Holloway Hall Auditorium at 3:00 p.m.

Although the bulk of the concert will feature American-composed music in deference to the Bicentennial Year, the initial half of the program will present music indicative of our European heritage.

The opening selection is an adaption of a German chorale in fanfare style followed by a delicate treatment of Johann S. Bach's "Prelude and Fuge in F Minor," adapted for band and guitar. The soloist will be Mr. Wallace Duyer, elementary music instructor in the Wicomico County Schools and guitar instructor in SSC's continuing education program.

Douglas Smith, part-time instructor of woodwind instruments at Salisbury State College will also be featured in the "Concertino for Flute" by Cecile Chaminade, a prominent French female composer who equally spanned the 19th and 20th centuries. The European part of the program concludes with the Americanized transcription by Alfred Reed of four authentic Armenian folk songs from the Collected works of Gomidas Vartabed.

All are invited to participate in the Salisbury State College Concert Band's contribution to America's Bicentennial Celebration.

TAKE THE MONEY AND RUN

Virgil, the convict, is the product/result of an unfortunate childhood "bully", bickering parents, acute cello playing and a neurotic tendency to win a girl by stealing money. But alas, Virgil is so inept as a crook, he fails even to make the FBI's most wanted list. Woody Allen's first outing as a director satirizes snobbish French restaurants, musically obsessed psychiatrists, mother-loving FBI agents and other crime movies. This hilarious film starring Woody Allen will entertain you.

Health Center

SUNBATHING PRECAUTIONS

Spring has arrived and almost everyone is anxious for a "good tan". First, a word of advice! Most cases of severe sunburn are the result of failure to observe simple precautions.

Begin your sunbathing by being exposed to the sun no longer than 30 minutes.

Increase exposure 10 minutes each day until your skin becomes conditioned.

Do not let the cool weather mislead you! The sun is hot now, and bad burns occur easily.

Do You Know That . . .

Chronic exposure to sunlight has a distinct aging effect on the skin? Sunburn is caused mainly by ultraviolet rays. A slight overexposure causes tiny blood vessels in the skin to dilate, causing the skin to become red. As overexposure increases, tissue injury starts, swelling of the skin occurs, blisters appear and often fever and headache develop. Sunlight includes radiation with wave lengths varying from 2,900 to 18,500 angstroms . . . only 3,200 can produce sunburn.

It's hotter than you may realize, so protect yourself!

Sunbath before 10 a.m. or after 4 p.m. Use sun-screening lotion or cream. Cover up after a few minutes exposure. Use common sense in the sun.

Lecture

Dr. Polly Deemer Speaks

Dr. Polly Deemer, who is perhaps a little of both, will speak on "Wonder-woman and the Serpent's Bride" at the Cookie Colloquium to be held Thursday, April 8, at 4:30 in DH 225. Her talk will center on the nature of myth and the way myths form our ideas of woman. The Philosophical Society, sponsor of the get-together, invites all students and faculty to attend, and to partake of both the cookies and Dr. Deemer's wisdom!

Friday Flicks

STRAW DOGS APRIL 9 DSH 149

In this controversial movie, starring Dustin Hoffman and Susan George, Sam Peckinpah, the director, explores his favorite themes: Manhood requires rites of violence, home and hearth are inviolate and must be defended by blood, and man must conquer other men to prove his courage and hold his woman. To illustrate them he stages one of the most horrifying gang-rape scenes ever filmed and has Dustin Hoffman systematically maim and kill four opponents in one of the goriest blood-lettings ever recorded.

Guest Speaker

Mr. Charles Deemer Gives a Reading

The public is invited and admission is free.

Mr. Deemer studied at CalTech and Berkeley, but received his undergraduate degree at UCLA, where he earned the Phi Beta Kappa. Prior to graduating he had been a Russian Linguist in the Army, stationed in Germany. Sponsored by the College Center Board, the series focuses on contemporary issues that affect the life of every citizen. After presentation of each film there will be a discussion headed by a faculty member. There will also be refreshments. The schedule for the films is as follows:

Tuesday, April 13 - Alaskan Pipe Dream, an exploration of the controversial oil pipeline project. It also shows the problems the project has created for the Eskimo and his traditional way of life.

Tuesday, April 20 - Navajo: The Last Red Indians, an essay tracing the history of the Navajo and documenting the shattering of their lifestyle by the arrival of the white man. A TOUCH OF CLASS APRIL 16 DSH 149

A TOUCH OF CLASS is a truly top-notch romantic comedy that examines the foibles of an extra-marital affair. It's a story of a young American (George Segal) working in London as an insurance underwriter. Through a series of believable but funny accidents, he meets a British girl, Glenda Jackson. Their romantic meetings are a series of hilarious fumbles and miscues. Glenda Jackson's outstanding performance won her an Academy Award.

Entertainment

An Evening of Humor with David Frye

The College Center Program Board will present an evening of humor with David Frye on April 22 at 8 P.M. in Tawes Gymnasium.

Today, the name David Frye is synonymous with political caricature and mimicry. He is one of the most in-demand comedians in the nation and there is hardly a video variety show or late night panel program that has not had him as a guest. His fame further increased recently with the release of Elektra Records' "I Am The President", an album containing original sketches of Frye performing as the President, Vice President (Agnew), Humphrey, Johnson, David Susskind, Henry Fonda, and others.

This performance is not open to the general public. There is no admission charge for students, faculty and staff. Tickets can be picked up at the College Center Office.

DIRTY HARRY
APRIL 23
DSH 149

Harry Callahan (Clint Eastwood) is safer to have on the police force instead of on the streets. Hot-tempered and carrying a chip on his shoulder, Harry fights crime by the rules . . . his rules. Underpaid and overworked, he doesn't break a murder case, he smashes it! Harry is on the trail of Scorpio, a sniper who has been terrorizing the city with a series of brutal and unpredictable murders. He hunts the sniper down, tracking him day and night in relentless pursuit. A spine-tingling, dare-devil chase through the streets of San Francisco and to the top of a schoolbus brings the movie to an unforgettable climax. Don't miss this one.

BREAK-OUT
DSH 149

Based on a true story of a fantastic escape from a supposedly impenetrable south-of-the-border prison, BREAKOUT is filled with fast-paced action, humor, suspense and knockout visual surprises. An American Businessman (Robert DuVall), in a Mexican jail, is convicted of a murder that never happened. Only two things can win his freedom . . . a lot of money and Charles Bronson. Bronson's perilous rescue mission involves helicopter aerial acrobatics and finding his way in and out of a deadly, intricate maze. Truly outstanding performances by Charles Bronson and Robert DuVall, and Academy Award nominee for the GOD-FATHER and by Randy Quaid, and Oscar nominee for THE LAST DETAIL.
